(57) Abstract :

A method for designing the crash reporter (Accident Suraksha) using Raspberry PI is proposed. Accelerometer sends signals to the raspberry pi and whenever the g -force reading is between 7.5g to 13.2g the raspberry pi activates (this indicates a accident has happened). As soon as the accident occurs, GPS tracks the location of the car. The location is then used to find out the nearby hospitals to the incident. The hospitals which are nearer to the incident are informed by sending message via GSM/GPRS 900 SIM shield. Information is also sent to the family members whose contact numbers are pre-stored in raspberry-pi. The next purpose of this project is to find if a person is in drowsy state or not. The images of the person (driver) when she/he is in drowsy state are stored in the raspberry-pi before. Then using camera, samples (photos) of the driver are taken continuously and then images are processed and compared to find if the driver is in drowsy or in normal state . If the driver is in drowsy state, then the driver is warned. Images are re-checked using outlier analysis and warned to the driver if any differences are found.

(57) Abstract :

In the 21st century, the Energy Management is the biggest challenge before us. Renewable energy is the only way to reduce the power demand. Among all the renewable energy sources solar power is more suitable, because more than 300 sunny days available naturally in our country. Solar Energy is majorly classified into two main energies namely, Light Energy and Heat Energy. The solar Photovoltaic (PV) system converts the light energy alone into electrical energy and the heat energy is not utilized, but the heat energy that falls on the PV panel will increase the panel temperature up to 60°C -80°C (STC- 25°C). So the efficiency of the PV panel gets decreased. In the same way, solar thermal systems will operate with heat energy from sun alone, the light energy that falls along with the heat energy was not utilized in this system. There is no possibility to detach the light and heat energy that come from the sun directly, so there is no chance of utilizing both energy (Light & Heat) from the sun which falls on a same place. The above problems are overcome by Glass to Glass Solar PV panel combined with solar water heater. This PVT method converts the light energy into electrical energy by solar PV panel and the heat energy that comes along with the light energy which leads to decrease the efficiency of PV panel was utilized to produce the hot water with the help of flat plate solar thermal collector placed behind the PV panel. The conventional PV panel efficiency was decreased when the temperature rises above the 25°C, because the thermal conductivity of the last layer (i.e tedlar) is low (0.033 W/mK). So it will not allow the heat to transfer to the back side of the panel. Hence, the heat was accumulated in the PV cell itself and it decreases the efficiency of the panel. The above problem is overcome by replacing the last Tedlar layer by Glass. The flat plate solar thermal collectors are placed behind the G2G PV panel for performance improvement. Due to the higher thermal conductivity (0.93 W/mK) of the glass layer, the heat accumulated in the PV cell was conducted by the glass and transfers the same to the solar thermal collector. The electrical efficiency of the G2G PVT panel was 0.7% more than the conventional PV panel, in addition 44.37% of thermal energy also stored. So the overall solar energy conversion efficiency is 56.02%. This method was more suitable for the people living in the apartments and those are having less space in the facade, because of its simplicity in construction, easy to operate and low maintenance cost.

(57) Abstract :

Recently with the progress of programmable devices like FPGA it is easy to realize the digital controller for power electronic system. Complex control algorithms can be implemented into FPGA and the calculation time can be dramatically reduced based on parallel processing capability of FPGA. Majority of the FPGA boards available in the market has lesser number of on-board ADC channels, which limit its applications in power electronic systems. The aim of this work is to increase the number of input analog signals accessed by FPGA boards with lesser number of on-board ADC channels by integrating an Analog Signal Acquisition Card (ASAC) to the existing FPGA board along with an embedded block. ASAC consists of analog multiplexer, whose controller is embedded into the host FPGA for which ADC channels has to be enhanced. Embedded block developed inside the FPGA also segregates and stores the digital data in the different registers for further digital processing.

Dear Mr Nallimilli

Congratulations on becoming an Associate Member of the Institution of Mechanical Engineers, the home of mechanical engineering, and the UK's fastest-growing professional institution.

Your membership

In this pack you will find your membership certificate, which confirms your newly earned status as an Associate Member of the Institution, including your AMIMechE post-nominal.

We have also included a guide to help you make the most of your membership and achieve your career goals. This guide details the full suite of benefits now available to you as an Associate Member.

The next steps

We want to support and encourage you to take the next steps toward professional registration through our Developing Engineers Programme. The programme has been specifically designed for our Associate members, to support your goal of achieving professional registration as either a Chartered Engineer (CEng) or Incorporated Engineer (IEng). Find out more at imeche.org/developingengineers

While professional registration is a key goal for many of our Associate Members, there are lots of other ways your membership can help you to progress your career, become a better engineer, and make a difference to the world.

Whatever your ambitions, the Institution of Mechanical Engineers is here to help you achieve them. We look forward to supporting you throughout your career.

If you have any questions, please contact a member of the team at membership@imeche.org or by calling +44 (0)207 304 6999.

Yours sincerely

IAENG is a non-profit international association for the engineers and the computer scientists. IAENG has been found by a group of engineers and computer scientists from over thirty different countries. Our goals are to promote the co-operation between the professionals in various fields of the engineering and to cultivate an environment for the advance and development of the technology. Our objectives include:

- Promoting the interactions between the engineers;
- Advancing the application of engineering techniques from the academics to the industry;
- Facilitating the exchange of information and ideas among the engineers and scientists freely.

Dear Mr Nallimilli

Congratulations on becoming an Associate Member of the Institution of Mechanical Engineers, the home of mechanical engineering, and the UK's fastest-growing professional institution.

Your membership

In this pack you will find your membership certificate, which confirms your newly earned status as an Associate Member of the Institution, including your AMIMechE post-nominal.

We have also included a guide to help you make the most of your membership and achieve your career goals. This guide details the full suite of benefits now available to you as an Associate Member.

The next steps

We want to support and encourage you to take the next steps toward professional registration through our Developing Engineers Programme. The programme has been specifically designed for our Associate members, to support your goal of achieving professional registration as either a Chartered Engineer (CEng) or Incorporated Engineer (IEng). Find out more at imeche.org/developingengineers

While professional registration is a key goal for many of our Associate Members, there are lots of other ways your membership can help you to progress your career, become a better engineer, and make a difference to the world.

Whatever your ambitions, the Institution of Mechanical Engineers is here to help you achieve them. We look forward to supporting you throughout your career.

If you have any questions, please contact a member of the team at membership@imeche.org or by calling +44 (0)207 304 6999.

Yours sincerely

Dr Colin Brown CEng FIMechE FIMMM
Chief Executive

Dear VARDHANI AMBATI,

Welcome to IEEE. Attached is your 2018 graduate student membership card. We hope that your IEEE experience will be rewarding for years to come.

You are also now a member of the IEEE Student Branch at your institution, if one has been established. There, you can form productive relationships, compete in exciting challenges, and develop important leadership skills. As a graduate student member, you are also eligible to vote in the annual IEEE elections.

At your local IEEE Section, you can connect with industry professionals who can provide valuable insights into the current job environment. Find your local Section contacts in myIEEE at www.ieee.org/myIEEE.

In addition, be sure to join the IEEE Membership Forum community in IEEE Collabratec™ - an integrated online community where technology professionals can network, collaborate, and create - all in one central hub. Visit ieee-collabratec.ieee.org.

Last, create your Technical Interest Profile at www.ieee.org/profile. Here you can also update your professional and education information, as well as manage communication preferences.

Enclosed are recommendations on how to get the most from your membership. Thank you for choosing IEEE as your technical professional organization - and for making an investment in your future.

Sincerely,

C. Jankowski

Share Your IEEE Membership Experience and Get Rewarded!

The IEEE Member-Get-A-Member (MGM) program offers you rewards of up to US$90 in individual earnings for successfully recruiting new IEEE members.

Your rewards can be applied toward IEEE dues, IEEE Society fees, or the purchase of IEEE products and services.

Program rules:

1. Only open to current IEEE members (IEEE Society affiliates are not eligible).
2. Completed applications (either print or online), with full dues payment, must be submitted with the recruiter's name and membership number in the proper recruiter box that is provided on the application.
3. Applications received without recruiter's membership number will be disqualified—there will be no retroactive qualifying of recruiters.
4. Applications must be received at IEEE before 15 August
5. Maximum individual earnings: US$90 annually

Full rules are available online at www.ieee.org/mgm

THE MGM PROGRAM OFFERS THE FOLLOWING INCENTIVES:

Professional Members

- * Receive US$15 for each Professional member recruited
- Note: e-members recruited earn US$5 (where available)

Student and Graduate Student Members

- * Receive US$15 for each Professional member recruited
- * Receive US$2 for each Student or Graduate Student member recruited

Dear RAVIVARMAN SHANMUGASUNDARAM,

Thank you for renewing your IEEE membership. Attached is your 2019 membership card.

Take a moment to update your Technical Interest Profile at www.ieee.org/profile. Here you can also update your professional and education information, as well as manage communication preferences.

At your local IEEE Section, you can attend a local event or meeting to get to know your IEEE colleagues and enhance your professional network. Find your local Section contacts online in myIEEE at www.ieee.org/myIEEE. In addition, be sure to join the IEEE Membership Forum community in IEEE Collabratec™ - an integrated online community where technology professionals can network, collaborate, and create — all in one central hub. Visit ieee-collabratec.ieee.org.

Thank you again for continuing your IEEE membership. To learn more about the benefits, services, and features of membership, visit www.ieee.org/benefits.

Sincerely,

Dear RAJANI DEVI MERIGALA,

Welcome to IEEE. Attached is your 2018 membership card. We hope that your IEEE experience will be rewarding for years to come.

You are automatically part of your local IEEE Section listed below. I encourage you to attend an IEEE-sponsored section event to get acquainted with IEEE activities in your area. Find your local Section contacts in myIEEE at www.ieee.org/myIEEE.

Enclosed are recommendations on how to get the most from your membership. I also encourage you to register for an upcoming New Member Orientation webinar. To learn more, go to www.ieee.org/start. In addition, be sure to join the IEEE Membership Forum community in IEEE Collabratec™ - an integrated online community where technology professionals can network, collaborate, and create - all in one central hub. Visit ieee-collabratec.ieee.org.

Thank you for choosing IEEE as your technical professional organization.

Sincerely,
